

JiGSO Listen is an innovative team listening platform that helps your organisation flourish by giving your teams the insights and tools to build a culture of cohesion and psychological safety.

Psychological safety, team cohesion, and culture are key indicators of team performance. But how do you turn these theoretical concepts into actionable insights for teams, especially when those teams function in a hybrid model of remote and onsite work?

Teams over talent

While many focus on the individual employee, it's your teams that form the building blocks of successful organizations. It's within those teams that new ideas arise and grow. And it's also in these teams that interpersonal issues can lead to friction and productivity loss.

JiGSO Listen takes away that blind spot, reveals how teams are actually functioning, and offers actionable insights and tools to bring those teams to the next level.

Ask, Analyse, Act

JiGSO Listen goes way beyond the pulse. The ASK – ANALYSE – ACT flow installs a feedback loop that ensures continuous listening and exponential learning.
